

DENTAL TREATMENT

Dear students,

Given that there are more and more situations where acute or preventive treatment is required in the oral cavity, certain recommendations have been drawn up to guide you:

1) ACUTE CONDITION

Mostly it is an acute disease of the pulp of the tooth or inflammation in the bone (night pain, pain does not respond to painkillers, swelling, it is not possible to "bite", wisdom tooth complications, complications after extractions).

It is necessary to visit a dentist as soon as possible - preferably for an immediate acute treatment.
